

Profile:

Dr.Yamini Pendyala teaches English For Communication and Soft Skills at Guntur. She completed her education till graduation at Guntur and M.A.Litt from SPMVV, Tirupathi. She did B.Ed & M.Ed from Bharatidasan University, Tiruchirapally . She pursued M.Phil in Annamalai University, Chidambaram, Tamilnadu on Indian Literature and Ph.D from Acharya Nagarjuna University, Guntur, A.P. on Canadian Literature. Her doctoral thesis entitled “Exploring the Nuances of Inner Freedom and Self-perception – A Polemical Study of Margaret Laurence’s Fiction.” She is a resource person for UGC’s “Capacity Building of Women as Managers in Higher Education” and one of the 114 Master Trainers of “Andhra Pradesh Higher Education English Communication and Soft skills pilot project” and trained by British Council. She is one of the Examiners of Cambridge , testing BEC examinations.

She published three books published by an International Publisher. Her books entitled:

1. Fictional World of Margaret Laurence
2. Celebrating Diasporic Writing
3. The Indo-American Review

She published more than 30 papers in National &International journals. She presented papers in more than 30 conferences including National & International Conferences. She is a Research Supervisor in Acharya Nagarjuna University, Nambur. Two scholars are working on Ph.D under her supervision. She conducted FDP,s and Workshops on Communication Skills and Soft Skills at several Engineering Colleges, and also delivered Guest Lectures on Enhancement of Productive Skills. She delivered plenary sessions in conferences and chaired sessions on many occasions. She is the judge for many literary competitions organized in many Engineering Colleges.