

Dr P Jagadeeswara Rao:

Topic : Scenario of HIV Aids in Visakhapatnam with GIS Approach – Case Studies

Dr.P.Jagadeeswara Rao is a Professor working in the Dept. of Geo-Engineering and Centre for Remote Sensing, College of Engineering (A), Andhra University. He served as a Hydrogeologist, CGWB, Govt. of India. He is an international member in IGU Disaster and risk. He is an executive member of ISG-Visakhapatnam Chapter. He obtained UNO affiliated RS&GIS and Disaster Management courses. Visited the USA, Japan, Poland and China. Published research articles about 30 in reputed international and national journals on HIV/AIDS, water resources, watershed management, solid waste management, etc. About nine research scholars obtained Ph.Ds under his guidance. Served as Head of the Department and Coordinator, Student Affairs of AUCE (A). Published two books on Reservoir Sedimentation and Big Data. He is a consultant to Govt. and private organisations on groundwater and water management, bed rock assessment, RS&GIS studies for Clean Development Mechanism, Geen Belt assessment, etc. Acted as one of the advisory board members on Visakhapatnam Beach erosion. Presently advisor to Innovation, Incubation, Startups, Patents, Online courses and Entrepreneurship activities committee of AUCE (A) and Board of Studies Dept. of Geo-Engineering.