

Profile:

Ms Jainer is Graduate in Architecture and Post Graduate in Environmental Planning from School of Planning and Architecture, Delhi. She is trainer in Urban Water Management training programs for municipal functionaries, practitioners, academicians, policy makers, architects. She is mainly working in area of water sensitive urban design and planning and is involved in development of tools for designing sustainable urban drainage system options in urban areas. Her previous experience includes training and research on urban metabolism and growth with field of research focusing on evolving strategies for storm water drainage and resource management in urban areas.