

Profile:

Dr. R Stalin

Dr. R. Stalin awarded doctorate degree in the subject Criminology from the University of Madras, Tamil Nadu in the year of 2016 for his research on “Effects of Internal Migration: A Study among the Children of Migrant Families in Chennai City”. He obtained his master degree in Sociology from the same University in the year of 2010. He has seven years rights and various social issues related research project experiences through worked as a research associate and assistant in various research projects sponsored by UNICEF, University Grants Commission-India, Tamil Nadu Prison Department and so on.

He has visited the Max Planck Institute for Foreign & International Criminal Law, Freiburg, Germany as a visiting research scholar. Dr. R. Stalin awarded Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs Fellowship Grant to participate and present a paper in the 14th International Symposium of the World Society of Victimology held at The Hague, Netherlands. He has also cleared the Basic/Refresher Course (online) on Social/Behavioral Research conducted by the Collaborative Institutional Training Initiative (CITI), University of Miami, USA in the year of 2013.

His areas of specialization are Sociology of Law, Sociology of Crime & Delinquency, Penology & Correctional Administration and Human Rights.