

BARRIERS THAT PREVENT EFFECTIVE TEACHING AND OVERCOMING IT

Dr. Mantri Madan Mohan
Associate Professor
IASE, ANDHRA UNIVERSITY

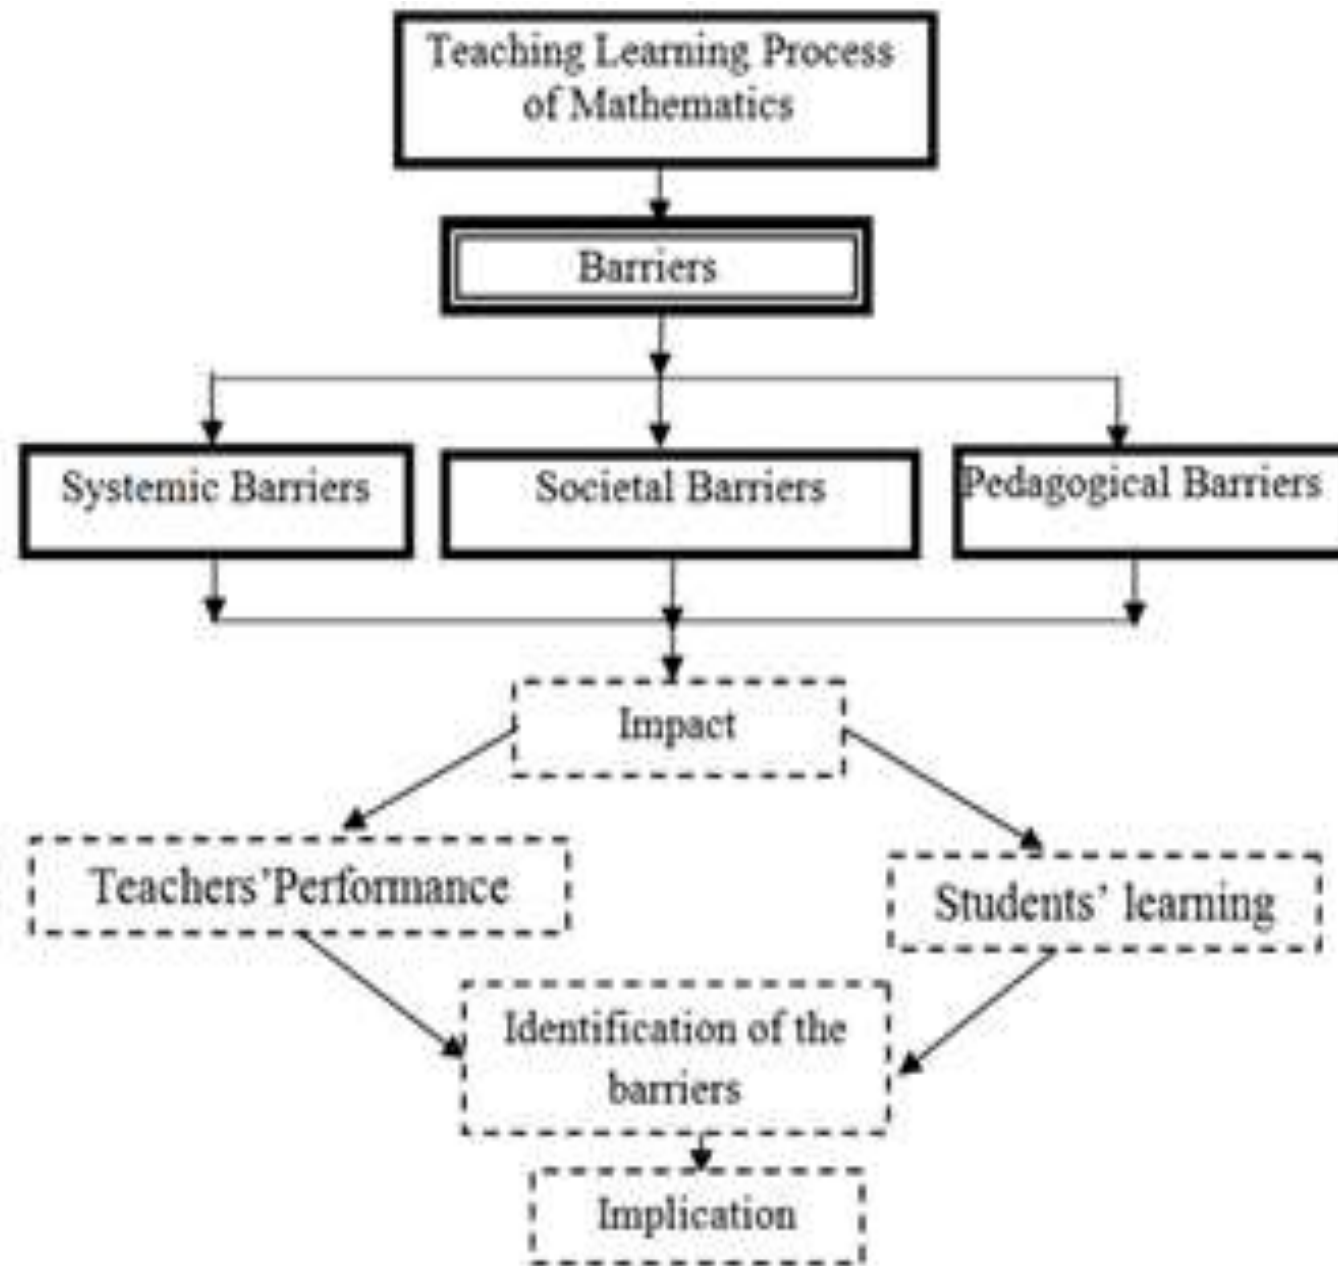

LOCATION OF BARRIERS

- EXISTING WITHIN THE LEARNER

- WITHIN THE CENTER OF LEARNING

- WITHIN THE EDUCATION SYSTEM

MANIFESTATION OF BARRIERS

- Learning breakdown occurs
- When learners ‘drop out’ of the system
- Barriers during learning process

TYPES OF BARRIERS

1. Types of barriers
 - Effective learning is influenced by the availability of educational resources to meet the needs of society
 - Inadequacies in provision
 - Inadequacies in society like urban/rural
 - Inadequacies due to gender discrimination, race and disability
 - Barrier due to political practices

Lack of access to Basic service

- Inability of learner to access the educational provisions that does exist
- Inability to access other services which contribute to learning

Poverty and underdevelopment

- Sustained poverty creates many barriers
- Unemployment of Parents and economic inequalities

Factors which place learners at risk

- Effective learning is directly related to and dependent on the social emotional well being of the learners

Attitudes

- Negative and harmful attitudes towards difference in our society remain a critical barrier of learning and development.

Inflexible curriculum

Inflexible nature of curriculum

When the learners are unable to access the curriculum
learning breakdown occurs

Language and communication

- Medium of teaching and learning
- Poor communication skills

Inaccessible and Unsafe Built Environment

Disable person cannot have accessibility to learning places.

Inappropriate and Inadequate Provision of Support Services

- Poor teaching methods
- No proper teaching aids like computer and internet facilities

Lack Of Enabling and protective, Legislation and Policy

- Policy and legislation governing the education system and regulating the society may cause some barriers.

Lack of Parental Recognition and involvement

- Non involvement of parents activity in the teaching and learning process may give
- Development of education service providers and all other human resources, if often fragmental and unsustainable.

THANKING YOU